

College of Integrative Studies (CIS) Residency

To encourage CIS students to reside in PSR, Singapore Citizens and Permanent Residents will be entitled to 50% off the monthly accommodation rate. International students who are awarded the CIS Residency will be entitled to 25% off the monthly accommodation rate.

Terms and Conditions of the CIS Residency:

- Recipients of the CIS Residency have to be CIS undergraduates.
- Recipients of the CIS Residency are expected to make PSR their primary residence during term time.
- Recipients of the CIS Residency are expected to participate actively in PSR activities.

Prinsep Experience Grant (PEG)

To encourage local students to enrich their undergraduate experience with at least a semester of residential living, SMU has introduced the Prinsep Experience Grant (PEG) for all Singapore Citizens and Permanent Residents. Recipients of the PEG will be entitled to 30% off the monthly accommodation rate.*

Terms and Conditions of the PEG:

- Recipients of the PEG are expected to make PSR their primary residence during term time.
- Recipients of the PEG are to participate actively in PSR activities.

*Applicable for students who are not from the College of Integrative Studies (CIS).

Student Leader Grant (Social Committee) (SLG)

To ensure that the programming at PSR is relevant and attractive to its residents, the University has introduced the Student Leader Grant (SLG) for all eligible student leaders who are willing to devote their time to also serve as members of the Social Committee in PSR. Recipients of the SLG will be entitled to a 50% subsidy off the monthly accommodation rate (this can be enjoyed on top of the PEG or the CIS Residency Grant).

Terms and Conditions of the SLG:

- Recipients have to attend an in-person training retreat (Estimated Date: August)
- Recipients of the SLG are to work closely under the guidance of the Lead Faculty Fellow, alongside Resident Seniors, to organize activities that will speak to the interests and preferences of the PSR resident community.
- Recipients of the SLG should be committed to creating a vibrant community at PSR. They should be integration champions, social, and be willing to have fun and to enhance the living and learning experience for all residents.

PSR Resident Senior Grant (PSR-RSG)

To provide an enjoyable living experience for everyone at PSR, SMU has introduced the PSR-RSG for capable, responsible, and fun-loving senior students who are appointed as PSR's apartment leaders. There shall be one Resident Senior per apartment, and they will serve as leaders and mentors to the residents under their care. Recipients of the PSR-RSG will enjoy a 25% subsidy off the monthly rental rate (this can be enjoyed on top of the PEG or the CIS Residency Grant).

Terms and Conditions of the PSR-RSG:

Recipients have to be SMU Year Two undergraduates and up (hence, you're literally, a 'senior!'). Prior stay at SMU's residence is preferred, but we welcome all applicants who can meet our requirements!

- Recipients have to attend an in-person training retreat (Estimated Date: August)
- Recipients are to work closely under the guidance of the Lead Faculty Fellow and other Resident Seniors to:
 - Be mentors and peer leaders for up to 11 other residents in their apartment, ensuring that cleanliness, silent hours, and other community rules are observed, while taking care of the residents' well-being and morale.
 - Assist the Lead Faculty Fellow, and Social Committee to execute social activities throughout the year.
